Scenario:

You are a college student who enjoys talking to his friends on discord. You find yourself continuously confusing the amount of time you have to finish certain work and see yourself constantly pushing work back. You would like to maintain a healthy schedule where you can balance discord movie nights with your friends and doing your school work/managing your appointments.

Task 1: Create a reminder for your advisement meeting

Task 2: Create your schedule for your classes

Task 3: Make your advisor meeting priority higher than your other ones

Notes:

Changes:
- Make scheduling classes more intuitive
- Allows users to set priority of reminders while in the creating process

Keeps:
- The calendar the view is nice to see and clear with info
- Editing UI is very easy to use
